BAT MITZVAH PROJECT

During my time in the Girls Make Games summer program, I created a game based off of research I did on whales and how they benefit the environment. My game teaches the player about whales and their lives as they play the game, and while it didn't win the competition to get published, it made it to semifinals. The game along with my Bat Mitzvah speech spread awareness about whales and how they are huge contributors to helping combat climate change.
